Section VI. Specifications

INTRODUCTION

The Drawings/Plans and Specifications are complementary to each other. Drawings are graphic means of showing work to be done. They are particularly suited to showing where materials are located. Thus, drawings exist essentially to show dimension, location, and placement. Not all works, however, can be presented in the drawings. Generalized works are usually in statement form and hence, the contractor is required to read the Specifications carefully.

Specifications, on the other hand, are used to describe the materials, construction techniques, samples, shop drawings, guarantees, and other contract requirements. Together, the drawings and the Specifications are used to inform the contractor. In cases where the specified brand carries the manufacturer's specifications, the manufacturer's specifications shall hold precedence over these Specifications.

The following are the underlying principles of these Specifications:

- 1. The technical Specifications are only one part of the Contract Documents;
- 2. The Contract is between the Procuring Entity and the General Contractor; and
- 3. The General Contractor is the only party responsible for completing the work in accordance with the Contract Documents.

Therefore:

- 1. Only the General Contractor is referred to in the Specifications so as not to violate the intent of the contract and so as not to undermine the proper chain of command.
- 2. Any reference to Specialty Trade Contractors in the technical Specifications is made only insofar as the selection of Specialty Trade Contractors is made through bidding. Once the Specialty Trade Contractors are selected and assigned to the General Contractor, the General Contractor assumes all the responsibilities for the execution of the whole project in accordance with the Contract Documents. Therefore, in the contract between the Owner and the General Contractor, the Specialty Trade Contractor is not referred to. In all contract Documents, the word "Contractor" means the General Contractor.
- 3. The brand names specified are intended to assure the level of quality needed for the project. This does not mean however that the brands specified are exclusive. The Contractor shall prove by laboratory tests and certificates that substitute materials are of the equivalent quality and the Contractor shall secure the Architect's approval prior to use of such substitutes.
- 4. The omission of the phrase "The Contractor shall" is intentional because the whole Specifications are directed to the Contractor. Omitted words or phrases shall be supplied by inference in the same manner as they are when a "note" occurs on the plans.

- 5. Where "as shown," "as indicated," "as detailed" or words of similar import are used, it shall be understood that reference to the plans accompanying the Specifications is made unless otherwise stated.
- 6. Where "as directed ", "as required," "as permitted," "as authorized," "as approved, accepted" or words of similar import as used, it shall be understood that the direction, requirements, permission, authorization, approval, or acceptance of the Architect is intended unless otherwise stated.
- 7. As used herein, "provided" shall be understood to mean "provided complete in place," that is, "furnished and installed."
- 8. Most sentences are in the imperative mood. This style is especially suited for instructions covering the installation of products and equipment.

CLARIFICATIONS

All reference to any brand, material, equipment, or systems in the Specifications, plans, and bid documents is indicative of the type and quality of what is required. However, any equal material, equipment, or system can be used.

The list of items of work provided in the scope of works does not in any way limit the responsibility of the Contractor to perform all other works necessary for the completion of the project.

A. GENERAL CONDITIONS DESCRIPTION OF THE PROJECT

Complete all works for the Construction of Fish Landing at Lake Dapao, Pualas, Lanao del Sur, including the supply of all materials, equipment, and systems, as well as the performance of all necessary labor and processes, in accordance with the plans, the Bidding Documents, the Terms of References, and other related contract documents.

The contractor is not limited to the scope of works listed. They should verify all plans and actual conditions for the necessity of work. If the actual situation calls for demolition, removal, and relocation, he shall include such and all concomitant works to finish as part of the scope of work.

Any discrepancies found between the plans and Specifications and the site conditions or any errors or omissions in the plans or Specifications should be clarified with the Consultant/Engineer/ Representative from the Procuring Entity.

Should the contractor fail to verify or clarify discrepancies, errors, conflicts, or omissions in the plans and Specifications, it shall be deemed that the contractor has included in the preparation of his bid the necessary works, materials, or items needed to satisfy the general scope of works.

B. SCOPE OF WORK

1. General Requirements

- 1.1 Furnish all materials, equipment, tools, apparatus, appliances, accessories, transportation, labor, and supervision required for the complete construction of the subject project, as shown on the plans and called for on these Specifications, ready for use.

Section VII. Drawings

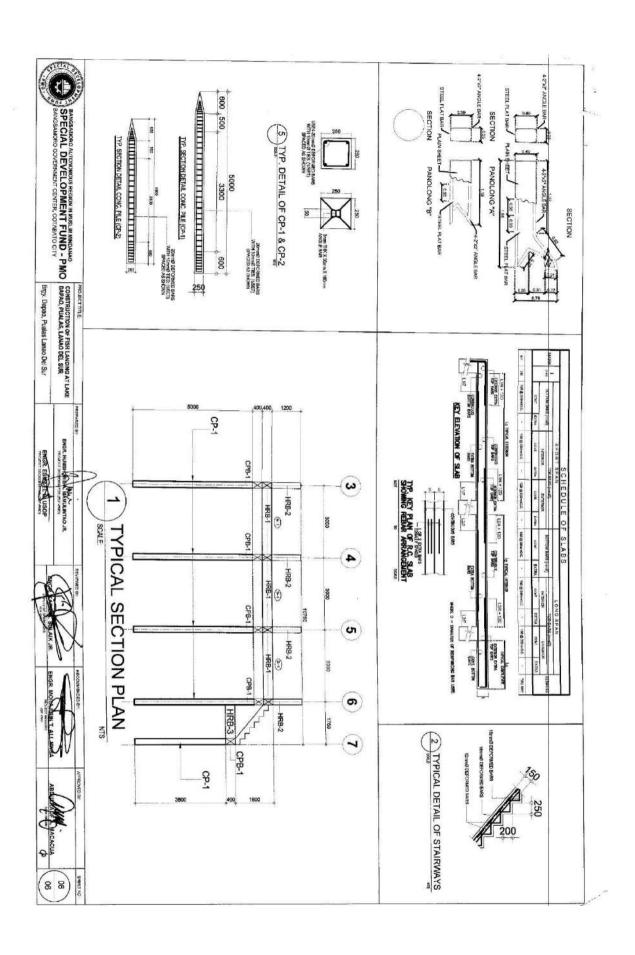

Section VIII. Bill of Quantities

Notes on the Bill of Quantities

Objectives

The objectives of the Bill of Quantities are:

- a. to provide sufficient information on the quantities of Works to be performed to enable Bids to be prepared efficiently and accurately; and
- b. when a Contract has been entered into, to provide a priced Bill of Quantities for use in the periodic valuation of Works executed.

In order to attain these objectives, Works should be itemized in the Bill of Quantities in sufficient detail to distinguish between the different classes of Works, or between Works of the same nature carried out in different locations or in other circumstances which may give rise to different considerations of cost. Consistent with these requirements, the layout and content of the Bill of Quantities should be as simple and brief as possible.

Daywork Schedule

A Daywork Schedule should be included only if the probability of unforeseen work, outside the items included in the Bill of Quantities, is high. To facilitate checking by the Entity of the realism of rates quoted by the Bidders, the Daywork Schedule should normally comprise the following:

- a. A list of the various classes of labor, materials, and Constructional Plant for which basic daywork rates or prices are to be inserted by the Bidder, together with a statement of the conditions under which the Contractor will be paid for work executed on a daywork basis.
- b. Nominal quantities for each item of Daywork, to be priced by each Bidder at Daywork rates as Bid. The rate to be entered by the Bidder against each basic Daywork item should include the Contractor's profit, overheads, supervision, and other charges.

Provisional Sums

A general provision for physical contingencies (quantity overruns) may be made by including a provisional sum in the Summary Bill of Quantities. Similarly, a contingency allowance for possible price increases should be provided as a provisional sum in the Summary Bill of Quantities. The inclusion of such provisional sums often facilitates budgetary approval by avoiding the need to request periodic supplementary approvals as the future need arises. Where such provisional sums or contingency allowances are used, the SCC should state the manner in which they will be used, and under whose authority (usually the Procuring Entity's Representative's).

The estimated cost of specialized work to be carried out, or of special goods to be supplied, by other contractors should be indicated in the relevant part of the Bill of Quantities as a particular provisional sum with an appropriate brief description. A separate procurement procedure is normally carried out by the Procuring Entity to select such specialized contractors. To provide an element of competition among the Bidders in respect of any facilities, amenities, attendance, etc., to be provided by the successful Bidder as prime Contractor for the use and convenience of the specialist contractors, each related provisional sum should be followed by an item in the Bill of Quantities inviting the Bidder to quote a sum for such amenities, facilities, attendance, etc.

Signature Box

A signature box shall be added at the bottom of each page of the Bill of Quantities where the authorized representative of the Bidder shall affix his signature. Failure of the authorized representative to sign each and every page of the Bill of Quantities shall be a cause for rejection of his bid.

These Notes for Preparing a Bill of Quantities are intended only as information for the Procuring Entity or the person drafting the Bidding Documents. They should not be included in the final documents.
